2. FURTHER ACTION

If a demand for international preliminary examination is made, this opinion will usually be considered to be a written opinion of the International Preliminary Examining Authority ("IPEA"). However, this does not apply where the applicant chooses an Authority other than this one to be the IPEA and the chosen IPEA has notified the International Bureau under Rule 66.1bis(b) that written opinions of this International Searching Authority will not be so considered.

Re Item V

Reasoned statement with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability;
citations and explanations supporting such statement

1. Reference is made to the following document:

D1: US-A-4308928

2. The application does not meet the requirements of Article 6 PCT, because claim 1 is not clear.

2.1 The expression "....endless movable conveyors which are movable in both directions along their longitudinal plane...." is vague and unclear and leaves the reader in doubt as to the meaning of the technical features to which it refers, thereby rendering the definition of the subject-matter of said claim unclear(Art. 6 PCT).

2.2 It is clear from the description on page 7, line 15-16 that the following feature is essential to the definition of the invention:

(1) "...the movable conveyor is moved as a whole..."

Since independent claim 1 does not contain this feature it does not meet the requirement following from Article 6 PCT taken in combination with Rule 6.3(b) PCT that any independent claim must contain all the technical features essential to the definition of the invention.

3. NOVELTY

3.1 Document D1, which is considered to represent the most relevant state of the art, discloses a method of automatically feeding and transporting food products from an in-feed device to a combination weigher, which automatically selects a number of portions of known weight the best combination portion which to make a batch of fixed weight with minimum give-away, wherein the main steps of the preferred in-feeding method comprises the feeding of the raw material from bulk by means of a tub tipper and a conveyor belt onto a infeed and dispersion machine, consisting of two product dispersers and revolving scales, and thereafter onto the moveable transporting device (see abstract, fig.1).

3.2 The subject-matter of claim 1 differs from document D1 in that comprises the step of:
- feeding the raw material evenly and accurately onto at least one und up to an unlimited number (n) of independent, endless movable conveyors, which are moveable in both directions along their longitudinal plane independently of each other, and then, when the conveyor belt(s) is running, transporting the raw material to a combination weigher, consisting of a corresponding number of rows of pool hoppers, where each row can have an unlimited number of pool hoppers and a corresponding number of rows of weighing hoppers as befits the number of movable conveyors, with one particular movable conveyor feeding one particular row of pool hoppers and weighing hoppers.

3.3 Therefore , the subject-matter of claim 1 is new and meets the requirements of Article 33(2) PCT.

3.4 Claims 2-10 a re dependent claims and thus meet the requirements of Art. 33(2) PCT.

4. INVENTIVE STEP

4.1 The subject-matter of claim 1 is not disclosed or suggested by document D1, therefore the subject-matter of claim 1 meets the requirements of Art. 33(3) PCT.

5. INDUSTRIAL APPLICABILITY

5.1 The subject-matter of independent claim 1 and the subject-matter of the dependent claims 2-10 meet the requirements of art. 33(4) PCT.
